—An oil tank out near the White Church, in Harmony township, was burned up early Saturday night. —Mrs. R. W. —George H. Warden, of Endeavor, while in Tionesta, Saturday, with his new Hudson car, met with an accident which nearly resulted in the loss of his machine. He had driven up to one of the city garages to get some gasoline and they carelessly spilled it all over the car. When the power was turned on the gasoline ignited, but George jumped out and pushed the car away from the gasoline that had run down under the car and the men at No. 1 hose house saved the car by their quick work with fire extinguishers. Very little damage was done and George got away without a burn.

—During the storm last week lightning struck the house of John Culmer at Leiper and damaged the property badly. The lightning tore off a gable end of the house, demolished an iron bed, ripped large holes in the carpets, destroyed every gas mantle and globe in the house and knocked holes in the floor and no part of the house escaped some effects of the lightning's stroke. Luckily no one was at home at the time and it was fortunate, also that no fire was caused by the electric bolt. Mr. Culmer's home was almost wrecked. He had it insured and his loss will be fully covered on the dwelling.—Clarion Republican.

Hopkins—Smearbaugh.

The marriage of Mr. Russell J. Hopkins and Miss Helen Knox Smearbaugh, Wednesday, Sept. 16, 1914, at the home of the bride's parents, was a quiet but very pretty social event, and was witnessed only by the immediate families and a few near relatives and friends of the couple.

The ceremony was performed precisely at four o'clock by Rev. H. A. Bailey of the Presbyterian church, the shorter ring service being employed. The couple was unattended, and as the bride couple took their place before the minister, Miss Elizabeth Randall softly rendered the Mendelssohn wedding march. The bride was attired in a traveling suit and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the pretty ceremony and attendant felicitations, luncheon was served; the bride's table, where covers were laid for twelve was beautiful in pink and white carrying out the color scheme of house decorations. On a large table in the upper hall many beautiful wedding gifts were displayed.

The out-of-town guests present were Miss Florence Klinefister of Warren, Miss Margaret Yetter of Kane, Geo. H. Warden of Endeavor, and Dr. Edwards of Washington, Pa.

Immediately following the luncheon the couple was driven to Tionesta in the Smearbaugh car, catching an eastbound train for a week's wedding trip which included the principal cities and the seashore. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smearbaugh, holds a high station in Tionesta's society circles in which she has always been an ornament, and the bridegroom is the efficient cashier of the Citizens National bank of this place. Both enjoy the high regard of all in this community and of their large circle of friends here and elsewhere, all of whom will wish for them every joy in life. They will begin housekeeping upon their return in the Davis house on East Bridge street, where they will be at home to their friends after October 15.

An Interesting Law Suit.

Evidence in a case of peculiar interest was heard at Warren last week involving a contest in equity between Alwilda Daelhausen of McGraw, and the heirs of the late Hugh Miles, whose death occurred less than a year ago at his home at Fagundes, two miles out from Trunkville station. He was 92 years of age at the time of his death, and some years prior to his demise Miss Daelhausen had been employed as his housekeeper. She continued in his employ until his death, some years prior to which Mr. Miles deeded her his property which consisted of three pieces of land, the grant also including his personal effects and some cash. The heirs claim that undue influence was exercised over the old gentleman in inducing him to assign to her this property, and considerable testimony was taken on both sides of the case to show that Mr. Miles, for some time prior to his death, either was or was not capable of transacting business or exercising good judgment in the disposal of his property. The heirs who are contesting the case number about fourteen, and their case is being handled by Alexander & Clark of Warren, and Breene & Breene of Oil City.

Miss Daelhausen takes the ground that she never received wages from Mr. Miles, but that her relations were the same as those between daughter and father. Consequently she claims that she has more right to the property than the heirs who are mostly nieces and nephews. Her case is in charge of D. I. Ball of Warren and A. C. Brown of Tionesta. Among the witnesses for the defense who testified to the soundness of mind of old Mr. Miles were the following from Tionesta: G. G. Gaston, J. D. W. Reck, J. W. Landers, Joseph Clark, A. M. Douth, Mr. and Mrs. Swanson.

The case will not be decided before the next term of court, the proceedings last week being in the nature of a hearing as to whether the judgment shall be opened. On this question the court will render his decision in due time.

Mineral Production of Forest County In 1913.

The Topographic and Geologic Survey Commission of Pennsylvania furnishes the following facts regarding Forest county's mineral products:

The only mineral production reported from Forest county in 1913, as in 1912, was petroleum and natural gas.

There was but little difference in the output of petroleum reported, the total as reported as ascertained from the reports received, being 186,000 barrels, with a value of $473,000 as compared with 184,000 barrels with a value of $502,000 in 1912.

It is impossible to separate the production of natural gas from the total production of the State with the degree of certainty desired. The conditions attending the piping of natural gas renders it almost impossible to separate the output from the different counties, and at the best there is a large element of uncertainty concerning the value of this output in any limited area. From the reports received the value of the natural gas output from Forest County in 1913 is estimated as between $200,000 and $250,000, but as stated this is a mere estimate based on those returns which are accurate and an arbitrary division of the remaining production in the State.

SHUNK.

In addition to the obituary given last week of Jonas Shunk it is only justice to add these few lines: He was a member of the M. E. church for many years and was a quiet, and unassuming Christian man. He was the last Chaplain of Ellerslie Post, 629, and filled the position with honor to himself and all concerned. The Post had charge of his funeral, in compliance of his request and a very large concourse of friends attended his funeral which was conducted at his house by his own request. Rev. Scherer of Endeavor delivered a very feeling discourse on the occasion. It seems hard that after so many years of happy life together the end should be so abruptly ended. It is known by all in our town that the now sorrowing widow does all in her power to comfort and help the now departed comrade. The kind husband and comrade of the G. A. R. now stands nearer the throne of light, his work on earth is well done; he has gone to receive a crown not made brilliant with costly gems of earth, but a crown of rejoicing, and although the widow may encounter a nettle here and there, most of her pathway will be strewn with flowers. Her future appears bright, and in the course of nature it cannot be long until, following our departed comrade, her own weary life will press the gates of death and be anchored forever with him and all God's family on the shores of immortality. J. A.

LANDIS.

Joseph R. Landis, well known to many of the older residents of this county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Hoover, whom he had been visiting at 14 Cnewango ave, Warren, Pa., Sept. 16, 1914, after an illness extending over several months. He was born in Collinsburg, Clarion county, March 22, 1846, but the greater portion of his life was spent in Barnett township, Forest county, where he followed farming for the most part. He was a veteran of the Civil war and had an enviable record as a soldier, serving two years as a member of the One Hundred and Third P. V., and 18 months in the Tenth Penna. Reserves. He was severely wounded in battle and carried the scars of war to his grave.

Some years ago he united with the Free Methodist church and his life was in keeping with the faith of that church, and often during his illness he expressed himself as being ready to answer death's call as he felt that he was saved. In addition to a large circle of friends who admired him for his many good qualities of mind and heart, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Hoover of Warren, Mrs. A. G. Cassatt of Redelyffe, Forest county, Mrs. J. G. Heasley of Looper, Pa., and two sons, E. J. Landis of Warren, and W. J. Landis of Buffalo, N. Y.

The funeral was held at Clarington, the former home of the deceased, Friday, where the interment was made in the cemetery at that place, Rev. D. O. May conducted the services.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.
